SAYS FORMER KAISER OF GERMANY IS PERSONALLY TO BLAME FOR THE WAR

Prince of Monaco and Former Personal Friend of Wm. Hohenzollern Says Kaiser Wished and Planned for Barbarous War

MEGALOMANIA GROWING FOR YEARS

"If they Oblige Me to Make War the World will See What It Never Dreamed Of," Kaiser is Quoted as Saying, After Plans for War were Made in Detail

LONDON, MARCH 10. — (Associated Press) — "There is no doubt that the former German emperor was the first and responsible author of the war. He absolutely wished for it and conducted it himself in all its ruthlessness and barbarity."

This is a statement attributed to the Prince of Monaco in an interview with newspaper correspondents in Paris. The prince was formerly a personal friend of the emperor. Continuing he said:

"Until a few years before the war the German emperor seems to sincerely have wished peace and a renewal of intercourse with France. I know this because I was entrusted with a mission to try to bring it about. But at the same time a terrible megalomania was growing in him."

"I shall never forget the fury in his face and the hatred in his voice when in July, 1914, he told me 'If they oblige me to make war the world will see what it never dreamed of.' These words were hypocritical because he could not pretend the war into which he declared himself driven was not at that very time being prepared for in detail."

RUTH LAW EXCHANGES IDEAS

RUTH LAW AND MARQUIS OKUMA

Miss Ruth Law, the noted American aviator, who is at present giving exhibition flights in Japan, called upon Marquis Okuma, formerly Premier and the foremost statesman of Japan. Miss Law told the Marquis of her wonderful flights across the United States during the Liberty Loan drives and of her share in collecting subscriptions for the loan. "So long as aircraft are handled by muscular men they are apt to be used as an engine of destruction, but when they are manipulated by the gentler sex they should be considered as a veritable mission of peace," declared the Marquis upon Miss Law's departure. The photograph of Miss Law and Marquis Okuma was made in Tokio on January 25, 1919.

CONVICTION OF EUGENE V. DEBS IS SUSTAINED BY THE U. S. SUPREME COURT

Socialist Leader Who Was Sentenced to Ten Years in Prison Has Lost Effort to Escape Punishment

Was Found Guilty of Espionage in Obstructing the Draft Was Four Times Candidate for President

(By Associated Press) Washington, March 10. — The supreme court today sustained the conviction of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, found guilty of violating the espionage act through statements in a speech at Canton, Ohio, last June, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

In deciding the case the court in effect upheld the constitutionality of the so-called enlistment section of the espionage act of 1917. The opinion of the court was unanimous.

As in the case of the espionage cases decided last Monday the supreme court in its opinion made no specific ruling upon the constitutionality of the espionage act. The court based its opinion upon that part of the indictment charging obstruction of recruiting service which was unanimously affirmed.

Debs, four times a candidate for president of the United States, began life as

Britain Believes Act Will Stop U. S. in Big Naval Program

(By Associated Press) Paris, March 10. — A change in the attitude of the British government regarding the plan to sink interned German warships has been noted since the return of Premier Lloyd George to Paris.

It now appears that instead of the German craft being sunk Great Britain is willing to permit France and Italy to keep some of the ships, but will consent to sink her own allotment.

In this way, it is said, Great Britain will relieve the United States of the necessity of carrying out her projected great naval building program, which it is understood was based on the intention to prevent any one nation from having a predominant navy that would give her control of the seas against the power of the league of nations.

SWITCH HOLDING UP CONSTRUCTION OF BIG CREAMERY

Work to Begin on Monster Fire-proof Building as Soon as Railroad Spur is Constructed.

Remodeling Sales Pavilion About to Begin—Purchasing Agent Here.

Just as soon as the railroad switch is constructed across the Sales Pavilion grounds, active steps for the construction of the huge fire-proof building of the Sunlight Creameries will be taken, according to announcement made Monday by General Manager F. W. Abke.

Plans of the firm have been delayed in execution by failure of the B. & O. railroad to take the steps necessary for construction of the switch track which will be built across the sales barn tract, paralleling the barn on the south, and money for the construction of which will be raised among the business interests of the city, probably within the next few days.

For more than two months the committee has been after the B. & O. to furnish estimates and specifications for the siding, and it is only during the past few days that prospects for speedy construction of the switch have become bright, and indications point to early beginning of this work. It is understood that a considerable bill will be necessary for the track, and the approximate cost will be $2,000 to $4,000.

Just as soon as the track is laid and shipments can be made, material and equipment for the building will begin to pour in, and within a few weeks it is expected actual construction of the plant will be under way, the main building at the present time being 250 feet in length, 120 feet wide (including sheds) and 2 to 3 stories high.

Another building probably two stories in height and some 40 by 40 feet will be erected without delay, it is announced. This structure will contain the check rooms, locker rooms, shower baths, and other equipment.

Within a few days a squad of workmen will begin the task of removing the stalls, partitions and other fixtures of the sales barn, and a concrete floor will be laid in the big barn, or at least in a large part of it. Other radical changes in the structure also are planned, and it will be used for storage purposes and for a mammoth garage, where the 60 to 80 trucks and automobiles of the firm will be cared for.

Mr. A. J. White, purchasing agent for the firm, has arrived in this city and will be permanently located here. Mr. White is from Chicago, and an expert in his line of work.

Mr. E. D. White, of Richmond, Indiana, arrived Monday and will join the field forces of the Sunlight Creameries, which is growing rapidly, and already consists of a half score of men. Other employees will arrive from time to time. A number of local people also have been employed by the concern.

Meanwhile, as the firm awaits construction of the switch, systematic organization of the territory is under way, and already upward of a score of employees are on the payroll of the concern in this city.

ENTERTAINMENT PROVE A BIG SUCCESS

The third of the splendid entertainments given in the Marion Township Centralized School during the school term passed off most successfully Friday night.

There was a large crowd, a box supper with "eats" that delighted the inner man and a jolly good time for every body. Especially enjoyed was a fine address given by Orville Turner, formerly a member of the city school Corps, who has been in training at Camp Sherman, and brought to an interested audience both entertainment and information.

The entertainments have been ably managed by Principal Feagans and teachers, Misses Dorothy Ware and Marie Hughes. The net proceeds were $32.

The large school building is the only place in Marion township available for community purposes and its usefulness and desirability is becoming more and more realized.

OPENING SERVICE AT ST. ANDREWS

The Lenten Mission at St. Andrews opened auspiciously Sunday night with a good attendance and an interesting service. The church was well filled and the service proved edifying and helpful. An interesting feature was the congregational singing of the familiar old hymns.

The rector preached, taking for his text the words of St. Paul in Galatians 6:25, "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit." The thought developed was that the contending forces of good and evil working in the lives of all people must be recognized by each one, and that the only way to overcome the forces of evil was by the cultivation of the sturdy qualities of Christian manhood and womanhood.

Two services will be held today, one at 4 o'clock and one at 7:30. The hour of the afternoon service has been changed from 3 to 4.

The subject tonight will be "To Preserve and to Purify." The services are short, not continuing over one hour and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

GRAVE OF LIEUT. PAUL H. HUGHEY LONG MISSING FLYER, IS FOUND

Last Picture of Brave Young Aviator, Lieutenant Paul H. Hughey, Vice-Ace

After long months of heart-breaking suspense to his relatives and friends, the sad word has been received in this city that Lieut. Paul Hughey, vice ace, member of the 91st U. S. Aero Squadron, met death while engaged in combat with the enemy on September 14, 1918, and the brave young man and his flight companion, Lieut. Kenyon Roper, buried where they fell between the villages of Puxieux and Tronville.

Soon after Lieut. Hughey was missing in action comrades sent word to Lieut. Hughey's mother in this city, Mrs. J. W. Hughey, and since that time every effort has been made to learn something definite regarding his fate, and the host of friends of Lieut. Hughey joined his mother and other relatives in hoping against hope of news of his safety, although all feared the worst, and the uncertainty of his fate, together with the constantly growing fear that he had met death, has proven a great strain to all. While news of his death brings increased sadness, his sorrowing friends are thankful that his body has been located.

Lieut. Hughey was a member of M Company and saw service on the Mexican border. In civil life he was an embalmer and undertaker.

Upon his return to this city, and when war with Germany was declared he immediately enlisted in the Aero service, and after months of training, was among the first American aviators to see active service in France.

Within a comparatively short time after entering active service on the front, he had downed several enemy planes, and it is believed that while all of his victories had not received the official endorsement, that he was entitled to be classed among America's aces.

Lieut. Hughey was one of the most daring flyers on the front at the time of his death and won great praise from his comrades.

In addition to his mother, who is now visiting in California, Lieutenant Hughey leaves one sister, Mrs. H. C. Ireland, and two brothers, Mr. Brooks Hughey of California, and Mr. Martin Hughey of Chillicothe.

Word of the finding of Lieutenant Hughey's grave came in a letter to Mrs. Hughey from the Captain of the 91st Aero Squadron, and follows:

"February 24, 1919.

"Dear Mrs. Hughey:—

"We have just received notice of the location of Paul's grave and that of his observer and the same is herewith enclosed. We are sending down two officers to photograph the grave and when they do I will send the same to you.

"It is exceptionally hard and difficult for me to write a letter of this sort because I can fully sympathize with you and know how sad it must be for you. No boy was better liked or admired than Paul was in the squadron; he was a good, steady worker, and always willing to do. I am sorry it was so long before we could give you this notice, but circumstances were so as you fully understand.

"Please accept my deepest sympathy and hopes and wishes for happiness with the knowledge that Paul is happy and fell flying and fighting for the greatest cause and the best people in the world.

Sincerely,
Capt. Victor H. Strahm,
91st Aero Squadron, A. E. F.

Enclosed with this letter was a report of which the following excerpts, made by Lieutenant Aleshire and Lieutenant James A. Reardon, assistant Adjutant, relative to the finding of Lieut. Hughey's grave and that of his flying companion, Lieut. Roper. "14. Between Puxieux and Tronville during the same trip I found the graves of Lieutenants Paul H. Hughey and Kenyon Roper, 91st Aero Squadron, who had last been seen leaving their field at Gondreville September 14th.

"15. The cross over this grave was marked 'Hier lagen (here lie) 2 Amerikanische Flieger' T. 14.9.18." As a considerable number of American aviators had been shot down on September 14th, the date on the cross afforded no definite clue nor did the few scraps that were left of their machine. However, a French boy who had shown me these graves told me that a friend of his in a nearby village had a handkerchief that was taken from one of these aviators and which had been thrown away by the Germans. I obtained this handkerchief and found it to be marked as follows: "Lieut. Kenyon Roper, C. A. C., U. S. A. Photograph of the handkerchief is attached herewith."

FARMERS' DAY SERIES OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Although the inclement March day somewhat interfered with the attendance Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church, the Farmer's Day series was auspiciously launched by Rev. J. L. McWilliams, and a most appreciative audience listened to the first sermon with much interest and a realization of the helpfulness of its message.

The choir rendered good music and Mrs. Lillie G. Davis her usual fine organ numbers.

Miss Isabelle Gunn, who has a high soprano, very full and clear, favored the evening congregation with a beautiful solo: "The Tears of Christ."—Kate Vannah.

The attendance at the evening service was excellent.

Following out the plan of the three Sunday series to present at the morning services those parables of our Lord dealing with country life and at the evening services scenes and lessons from patriarchal life, Rev. McWilliams delivered two effective sermons, beautiful in their literary style and original in their impressing of Bible lessons in their connection with farm life.

The opening sermon was based upon the first parable of our Lord, that of the Sower. Its preface was an invitation extended to farmers in the name of one who loved God's great "out-of-doors," more perfectly than anyone who ever trod the earth; who as a youth living in a humble little home embosomed among the hills, awoke to the beauties of nature; whose boyhood haunts were those of the field and forest, and for whom all the beauties of earth and sky had a wonderful ministry—earth's greatest teacher and preacher in after years among those same scenes gave the world its greatest lessons, teaching and preaching on mount and by lake-side.

The church in which this great sermon of the Sower was given was a country church; its roof the blue dome of heaven; its walls the everlasting hills; its carpet the velvet grass or mosaic of sand that bordered the lake; its decorations trees, flowers and shrubs that grew in wild profusion; its pulpit a boat and its congregation the multitude which followed the great preacher hungering for the bread of life.

The minister followed the parable closely, tracing the analogy between the seed, the soil, the season and the harvest of the natural world and that of the Spiritual, and ended with an appeal for farmers to be true not only to their earthly but also to their heavenly trust.

At the evening sermon Rev. McWilliams presented "Abraham the Pioneer."

Stories of pioneer life have peculiar interest to the farmer because there is something rugged, virile grand in pioneer history or romance. Pioneer spirit finds its highest expression in Abraham's life. Work of pioneers in the natural world is completed. Also for the most part in material world, but before us stretches out the great undeveloped moral and spiritual world and for constructive work in this realm is needed the spirit of Abraham, the pioneer of faith; the open mind, which responds to the great call; a willingness to break with the past if necessary, and to make the supreme sacrifice.

CROP SHORTAGE CREATES DEMAND FOR U. S. WHEAT

Hoover, Announcing His Early Resignation, Says Government May Not Have to Pay For Guarantee

Sees Demand For All of Coming Crop With Top Prices Prevailing

Paris, March 10.—(By Associated Press)—That Herbert Hoover, the American Food Administrator and lately appointed director general of the international relief organization, is to cease his relief work in the summer was indicated in a statement issued by Mr. Hoover concerning the wheat situation. He intimated that a majority of his co-workers also would return to private life.

Speaking of various problems connected with the wheat situation, Mr. Hoover said that they would have to be solved by some one else, "because neither myself nor most of the men in the food administration will be able to continue in the service of the government after next July."

"We also must earn a living," Mr. Hoover said.

When asked here today whether the United States government would see the $1,000,000,000 appropriated to support the guarantee for next year's wheat crop, he said:

"The question of government loss, if any, will revolve around several different factors. First, whether we or the world will have any surplus from the 1919 crop to carry over into next year; second, what the supply and demand will be for the 1919 crop and, third, whether the government should deliberately decide to take a loss in order to lower the price of bread.

"As to the supply and demand for the 1919 crop, changes in the world demand during the last month, shown by widespread investigation of the food needs of Europe, indicate that there will be no surplus to carry over into the 1919 crop. The Indian famine has proved so serious that a large part of the Australian wheat must go there at once. In addition a considerable proportion of the Australian supply, which has been piling up for years, has spoiled.

"The needs of Europe are larger than our previous estimates. Altogether the balance of the supply and demand for our present wheat now looks as though we might see wheat at $2.50 a bushel, as it was in the spring of 1917, if there is a free market in wheat and uncontrolled prices. So much for the 1919 crop. There can be no free market of 90 per cent of the world's exports. Wheat is controlled by the wheat executive in London.

"As to the 1919 crop, it is said, of course, too early to come to any precise conclusion. Our crop looks anything from 19 to 20 per cent better next year than last year. Before the war Russia, India, Bulgaria, Serbia and Roumania all exported large amounts of wheat. The war famine, loss of seed and lack of fertilizers and anarchy have culminated to turn these countries to importers of wheat for the whole of next year. Central European seedling will be below normal.

"The Australian 1919 crop is small and the Argentine crop is no larger than that of Europe. Altogether, it would appear now that there would be no bread to waste in any quarter of the world for the next year, even if the world had the money to pay for it and if the Bolsheviks did not get more territory.

"Therefore, to all present appearances, it had been possible to market the whole of next year's crop without loss to the government.

"As to whether the government will take a loss below the price of $2.25 a bushel in order to lower the price of bread is a matter that will have to be determined by the officials of the day. It appeared to me that the world price of wheat, if there is a free market, may be above $2.25, and, in any event, such a loss would be a direct subtraction from bread prices as it is now paid in most of the European countries.

CRAIG BROS

TO SPEND HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS HELPING SOLDIERS

Winnipeg, Man., March 7.—Preliminary measures have been taken by the Dominion Repatriation Committee for carrying out the broad plan of assisting returned soldiers and their dependents, which may involve a government expenditure of $100,000,000.

Loans totaling more than $1,500,000 have already been granted a thousand or more returned soldiers, while 500 others have made entries on government land under the soldier settlement act. Ottawa has officially announced.

The government's program as prepared thus far would allow a returned soldier a free grant of a quarter section, on homestead conditions, in addition to his ordinary homestead right. This privilege is extended under the soldier settlement act. The government has suspended entry by others than soldiers on all remaining homestead lands in the western provinces within fifteen miles of railway transportation.

A soldier is eligible to maximum loan of $2,500 for purchase of livestock, erection of buildings and other improvements when he goes on the land. The loan, which must be repaid in twenty annual installments is given in the form of refund for expenditures. Interest of five percent is charged. An additional $1,000 may be advanced as the land is improved.

The government is co-operating with the Soldier Settlement Board to acquire suitable lands now held uncultivated by private owners. Government officials say that at the coming session of parliament legislation will be sought for obtaining great tracts of such land to be sold to soldiers at cost.

Plans for other reconstruction work are going forward rapidly. Officials at Ottawa have informed mayors of leading cities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta that the government is ready to give each province $1,000,000 for road work provided the provinces make this appropriation the minor portion of a good roads fund. The government will not pay more than forty percent of the highway expenditures in any province.

A Great Question

Public opinion seems to be crystalizing, more rapidly each day, in favor of the formation of a league of nations. The great majority of the American people realize that the time has come for some sort of an agreement among the free nations of the earth which will wholly abate, or measurably reduce, the menace of war.

One by one the vociferous objectors to the formation of any such an organization—so far as it includes the United States—are abandoning their first positions, either becoming advocates of the plan presented or confining their objections to the form of the proposal as at present framed, and the latter means, practically, no objection, because it is not so much the technical form of the agreement as it is the intent of the signatory nations, that is important.

It must be admitted, however, that as this process of crystalization of public opinion, in favor of the league of nations, is going on it is not, entirely, without some misgivings for the future. Men who finally, after open hostility when the suggestion was first definitely presented, concede that some such an organization must be formed, do so with some little reluctance and even those who, at first, were emphatic in their expressions of approval, are beginning to realize the immensity of the undertaking.

The most encouraging development is an unmistakable breaking down of party lines. Those dangerous barriers have, more or less, up to this time, been dividing Americans and, to some extent, forming the basis for opinions. They are not disappearing as rapidly as they should and there is yet a disposition among some political leaders to take advantage of the proposal and twist it into a political issue by the discussion of which they hope to profit.

As the work of the peace conference is carried forward and each day brings the time, when the final decision must be made, nearer, men are ceasing to support the proposal because they are democrats or to oppose it because they are republicans.

The great majority of the American people are beginning to see the league of nations' proposal as it is—the most momentous step ever taken in the history of nations. They appreciate its magnitude realizing, on the one hand, that our nation puts out to sea leaving behind the traditions which are as old as the nation itself and, on the other hand, that our national isolation, which has been one great factor in our growth, prosperity and happiness, can no longer be maintained.

When we consider that the cause of the conflict with Great Britain in 1812 was removed before war was declared and hostilities begun but, because of our great distance from Europe notification could not be given the United States in time to stop war; when we remember that the battle of New Orleans was fought after the treaty of peace had been signed at Ghent, and compare that time and those conditions with the present, we are convinced that the world has changed and the days of isolation are passed.

And yet it is difficult to cut loose from the old moorings in spite of all that.

America is face to face with new conditions. Unappreciated by us, perhaps, this great world has been growing smaller day by day and year by year and, after nearly a century and a half of national happiness and prosperity the like of which the world has never seen and during which we have grown into a nation of more than a hundred million of educated, moral God-fearing, rich people, the tremendous upheaval of the world war has forced us to realize that the world problems are of vital interest to us—that we must forsake, in a measure, our former mode of national life.

But Americans cannot make the change without regret and without some misgivings, even though reason can devise no other way.

The truth about the matter is that any man who lightly disposes of the great question which confronts America, who arrives at a conclusion "out of his hat" or because of political affiliation is not doing justice to himself or to his country.

It seems now that the league of nations will be formed and that this nation must become a member, but Americans should consider the question and act as reason and conscience dictate. There is no turning back. We must go forward and we must make choice of the two roads open to us.

Our fathers solved these great questions as they arose and solved them with a wisdom which the years have proved almost inspired, because they were actuated only by a sublime patriotism and a single purpose—to do the right.

We in this crisis must not fail to be worthy of the ancestors who formed this great nation and gave all our multitude of blessings into our keeping.

POEM FOR TODAY

HER LIPS ARE THE THING

Oh, I have touched wine of the wind
Of the spring.
But give me her lips, her lips are the thing!
In pastures of beauty, on hillocks of sun.
Just to be off on a romp and a run.
With her arms swinging by me, her beauty so free,
And her lips, Oh, her lips are the blossoms for me!

As the daffodil nods on its stem all enrolled
In the green of its skirts and its bodies of gold,
So she comes through the lane of the apples of love
With her hair on the wind, and my own lips above
The lips of her roses all puckered and sweet
For the lips that are all that one's lips want to meet!

Oh, I have sat down at the feast of her song.
But her lips are the thing as she dances along.
Her skirts to her knees and her breath on the morn
With a fragrance like violets from Paradise borne;
Her lips, that are symbol and glory
and sign
Of the youth of the Spring—so elate, so divine!

IDLE HANDS IN ENGLAND CAUSE CRIME INCREASE

Soldiers on Leave are Chief
Offenders in Charge Made

London, February 9.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Crime has been on the increase in England since the signing of the armistice and, in official quarters, particularly Scotland Yard, it is attributed to a great extent to soldiers on leave. It is the natural result of idle hands, the officials say.

Attendants at centers where leave men congregate seem to be of one opinion as to why soldiers now commit petty crimes. They say the bearing of the soldiers has changed since hostilities ended. When they obtain a brief respite from the fighting they still felt they were engaged, still had something to do and something to think about. People who are at Young Men's Christian Association and Red Cross centers say that now there is no interest for the soldiers at the front and little they can do in the cities, as few have much money. They are idle mentally and physically.

There has been a tendency to blame overseas men for much of the crime, not Americans as comparatively few of them are on leave in England, but a Scotland Yard official has stated that the English troops are as much responsible as their colonial brothers.

"I am afraid there will be little abatement in the outbreak until demobilization has been considerably advanced," he said. "If, in the meantime, the military authorities could devise some scheme for keeping the men more in the country districts and less in the cities, things might be better than they are. City lounging invariably has a worse effect on a man than country idling."

CAN HELP APPLE BUDS TO DEVELOP

Reports continue to indicate that fruit buds on apple trees did not develop sufficiently last summer and all, particularly in southern Ohio, as a result of dry weather. To assist in bringing the buds out, good fertilizer and care full pruning are recommended by Frank Beach, extension horticulturist of the Ohio State University. On most soils, especially on thin land best results are obtained from nitrate of soda, applied about the time the buds are showing pink. For an old bearing tree about five pounds is required but for trees just coming into bearing two pounds is sufficient. The nitrate makes the buds more resistant to frost, assists in holding the young apples on the trees, and generally improves the quality of the fruit. Later it encourages a better development of fruit buds for the following year.

CUT YOUR SHOE BILLS

"Heretofore, soles never lasted me more than three months, because my work keeps me walking constantly on cement. But I have worn a pair of Neolin Soles now for more than three months, and judging from their present condition, they will last three times as long." So says G. L. Kerr, manager of an automobile organization in Geneva, N. Y.

This extra wear given by Neolin Soles not only makes the shoes soled with them cheaper by the year than other shoes, but the price you pay in the first place is sometimes less than for shoes of only ordinary wear.

You can get Neolin-soled shoes in many styles for every member of the family. Try these long-wearing, comfortable and waterproof soles on your worn shoes too. All good repair shops have them. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

News of Interest to Women

The Society page of Sunday's Commercial Tribune contains an excellent picture of Mrs. William R. Wood formerly Miss Alice Palmer of this city, accompanied by a brief resume of her success as head of the Civic Department of the Cincinnati Woman's Club.

This year she is serving her second term and was nominated for director of this club last week.

The Tribune says in part: This year Mrs. Wood inaugurated a series of civic luncheons, which have proved to be highly successful. At each meeting two speakers discuss current topics.

The department has been noted for its activity in assisting the school census, in the back-to-school drive, smoke abatement, Americanization work moving pictures, penny lunches and Anti-tuberculosis League and the Branch Hospital.

Mr. Wm. R. Wood is a nephew of Mr. W. W. Millikan and both he and his talented wife have visited at the Millikan home many times.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ging, Mr. and Mrs. William Carlowich entertained with an elegant dinner of pretty appointments Sunday. Covers were laid for fourteen.

A lovely gold basket filled with yellow chrysanthemums and green was in the center of the table, the handle of the basket tied with a big tulle bow.

The guests included: Mr. William Brakefield and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brakefield, Mr. Oscar Orr and family, Mrs. Minerva Orr, Mrs. Angelina Mills, Mrs. Sadie Lanum, and Mrs. Mary Ging.

Mr. and Mrs. James Summers entertained at their attractive home on Leesburg avenue, Saturday with a handsome dinner in compliment to their guest, P. J. Connor, of Houston Texas. Covers were laid for sixteen.

The table had for its central adornment an immense basket of green and white carnations, the handle tied with big bow of green tulle from which extended green and white ribbons leading to small baskets containing individual favors.

The table was lighted by green tapers under green shades and the same tints were daintily introduced throughout the elaborate menu of four courses.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. David Stonerock, of Williamsport.

That Washington C. H. High School Domestic Science girls are not the only ones making a reputation upon their serving of noon luncheons is evident from the following clipping from the New York Sun:

Some weeks ago the Woman was a guest at a delightful luncheon planned, cooked, served, all by the girls of the eighth grade of a private school. From grape fruit to pudding it was delicious. Nor was gastronomic enjoyment the beginning and end of its value. Every calory had been accounted for, and not a single food value had been duplicated. Long ago she had sung a ditty that hinted at the dire state of things when cooks were lost in blue stockings. It described the learned creature who knew all the "ologies," but

"She couldn't get up a dinner for a gaunt and hungry sinner. Nor prepare a decent supper for her poor voracious 'popper'—For she hadn't been constructed on the old domestic plan."

Eat such a luncheon, doubting one and be convinced that the modern learned girl is also a practical housewife.

Maurice Maeterlinck, Belgian playwright, several days ago married Renee Dahon, a young woman of Nice. It became known today. Maeterlinck has lived in Nice for the last 10 years.

The marriage took place at Chateau Neufde Contes, a small village 12 miles from Nice, with the strictest privacy. Only four villagers were present as legal witnesses. It crowns a romance which began eight years ago. Maeterlinck is 58 years old and his bride is 26 years old.

Maeterlinck was divorced from his former wife, Madame Georgette le Blanc, five weeks ago.

A St. Patrick's dance will be given on Friday night, under the auspices of the University Club on Friday night, March the thirty-first.

Robert Craig and John Browning are the members of the committee in charge and are perfecting arrangements for a most attractive dance, including a Jazz orchestra from Columbus.

Honoring her brother Private Harold E. Smith, from Camp Sherman, who has a ten day furlough and has just returned from overseas service, Mrs. Oscar Rude entertained with an enjoyable dinner Sunday. Those participating were Mrs. John W. Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rowe and sons, Estel and Edwin, and daughter, Miss Mary. Mr. Jerry Smith, Miss Turner of near Hillsboro.

The regular meeting of the Committee for Devastated France held at the Federated Club Rooms, Saturday afternoon was most interesting. Mrs. Fisher, who was sent from Columbus to attend the session talked enthusiastically of the work being done by the Columbus Chapter, and gave latest reports of accomplishments in France.

She urged the need for immediate donations. Peas and beans, for planting, must be sent at once to France. The plan is to have all seeds collected this week, sent to New York City in cheesecloth bags, which will be carried in just that manner by travelers to France. In this way it is thought their delivery can be rushed.

The call for chickens, eggs and rabbits is also urgent just now. Of course local donations for these must be made by giving money which will be expended for the chickens, eggs and rabbits.

The work on new garments and patch work quilts is to be rushed and donations of balls of carpet rags are requested.

Those who wish to donate beans and peas for planting are asked to take them this week to the Public Library. Anyone having other kinds of donations kindly call Mrs. Josephine Kerr.

Patterns for making the garments which are so badly needed can be obtained from Mrs. Kerr.

The Xenia Gazette of Saturday, records the election of Clarence S. Frazer, shoe merchant, as president of the Xenia Business Men's Association at the meeting held in the club rooms Friday evening.

Mr. Frazer's election as President is a promotion for him after years of faithful service as treasurer of the club. Mr. Frazer has held the office of Treasurer since the organization of the Association and he will no doubt make a faithful and progressive President.

Mr. Frazer, whose wife was Miss Edith Harsha, has a large acquaintance in this city, where the announcement of his election will be learned with interest.

Mrs. S. T. Ludwick and son Howard Emerson, of Chillicothe, are spending the week with Mrs. Ludwick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Graves of the Lewis pike.

Mr. Frank Abke, Sunlight Creamery manager and Mrs. Abke have moved from the home of Mrs. Abke's mother, Mrs. Ball, on North street, into the other side of this double house.

Hon. and Mrs. T. W. Marchant left the last of the week for Burlington, Cal., to join their son, Mr. Harris Marchant, and family for an indefinite stay. Their many friends sincerely hope their absence is only temporary and that Washington is not to lose them permanently.

John Crayton Griffith and John Browning were visitors in Cincinnati Sunday.

FUNERAL SERVICES MRS. ARMILDA LANUM

The Lanum home on the Greenfield pike was filled with relatives, neighbors and old friends Monday morning for the funeral services of Mrs. Armilda Lanum, resident of the Sugar Grove neighborhood for over four score years. Rev. Whitmer of Good Hope conducted an impressive service and made appreciative reference to this good, Christian woman who had passed more than the allotted span of life in the affection and regard of the community and her last days made peaceful and comfortable by the attentive care of the grandson and wife residing at the home. He also spoke of Mrs. Lanum's family as among the county's first settlers and those who had undergone the early hardships from which emerged the flourishing country life of the present Mrs. Tasso Post, both neighbor and friend, had written a beautiful memoir, which she read. Miss Daisy Cockerill sang very sweetly "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee" and the minister read the hymn "I Would Not Live Always."

The burial was made by the side of the husband, Joseph Lanum, in the Washington cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Hardway, Clark Post, Tasso Post, Luther Cockerill, Bruce Pine, Elmer Vance, Hon. Frank C. Here's Proof That Vinol Enriches The Blood.

Bradford, Pa.—"I have used Vinol for impoverished blood. I was broken out with a rash and rundown so it was hard for me to keep about my work. After trying Beef, Iron and Wine and other medicines without benefit Vinol enriched my blood and improved my condition very rapidly."—Rose Lasky.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics.

Carey participated in 126 games not missing a contest played by his club. He led the National League outfielders in point of chances accepted, finishing the campaign with a total of 359 putouts. Casey Stengel, right fielder of the Pirates, declared recently that the club did not need three outfielders. "Southworth plays one field and Carey the other two," said Stengel.

ALLIES READY TO HELP HUNS SAYS PICHON

Insists Germans Must Show Spirit of Cooperation to Insure Aid

(By Associated Press.)
Paris, March 10.—Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, in his talk with the correspondents Sunday, discussed the bearing of the food situation in Germany on the speedy conclusion of peace. He said that the urgent need of supplying Germany was recognized by all the governments represented at Paris. The hunger with which Germany was confronted, he added, was a bad counsellor. No one, he said, could suggest continuation of present conditions there and the supreme council had decided to send to Germany all the food that country needed. On the other hand, this could not be done if the Germans ceased working and did nothing to make certain that the expense caused to the entente countries due to the destruction and damage of the war should be met.

In signing the armistice last January, Germany agreed to hand over her commercial fleet to be used in revictualing Europe generally and Germany particularly. Yet, continued the minister, at a recent meeting at Spa the German delegates declared that the arrangement was unsatisfactory and that they would "absolutely refuse to part with their ships."

The allies were willing, M. Pichon went on, not only to supply food, but to accord credit to Germany, but Germany must first declare her willingness to live up to the conditions of the January armistice.

12,000,000 WOMEN MAY CAST A VOTE NEXT YEAR

Twenty-one States Allow Women to Vote For President

National Convention is Called For Women Delegates

New York, March 10.—(By Associated Press)—More than 12,000,000 women in the United States over 21 years of age are eligible to vote for the next president in 23 states where women may vote, according to an estimation by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt president of the National Woman Suffrage Association and president of the International Suffrage Alliance.

This estimate was given in a call to women voters of the United States to join forces with the National American Woman Suffrage Association at its Golden Jubilee Convention to be held in St. Louis March 24 to 28. Fifty delegates from each voting state are invited to join the delegations at St. Louis from the 2,000,000 members of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

"The National American Woman Suffrage Association has invited woman voters to a National convention in order that they may organize nationally and unite their forces with those of other lands," said Mrs. Catt.

"There is an obviously important national program for women voters. The great diversity of laws which concern women and children in our several states is a continual menace to the safety and welfare of the unfortunate and uninformed.

"The laws of the state could be unified and improvements added even in the states more liberal in their laws, if women voters would agree upon a proper constructive program. It is a fact so obvious that it needs no demonstration that if one section of the country is much behind the times in education and legal protection to women and children, its civilization is bound to prove a deterrent influence over the whole nation. Therefore, it becomes the duty of all forward looking people to see that the laws of the whole nation are unified and that the standard by which to measure the proper program for each state is the code of laws of the most advanced states.

"Women voters should contribute more to their nation and to the world than they do when acting from a localized viewpoint. "Those who live in the valley do not know what is to be seen from the mountain top." The opportunity to climb the mountain and in view of humanity in its struggle upward toward permanent democratic institutions and consequent paramount peace is here. The opportunity to extend a helping hand to those who are likely to find the path rough and thorny is here. The woman voter with the vision of coming freedom for the race in her soul will not hesitate to offer her service," continued Mrs. Catt.

The biggest Bureau of Suffrage Propaganda in the world has been organized by Mrs. Catt with funds she was bequeathed by Mrs. Frank Leslie, widow of a widely known editor and publisher. When Mrs. Leslie died a few years ago she left the bulk of her fortune to Mrs. Catt to be used for the advancement of the suffrage cause. The actual figures are in the neighborhood of $750,000.

Mrs. Catt, who has an abiding faith that only reason anybody opposes woman suffrage is because of lack of knowledge of its fundamental significance, decided that the most effective way to advance the suffrage cause was through the further education of the entire public on the subject of suffrage.

She formed the Leslie Woman Suffrage Commission, the members of which were to serve with her in the supervision of the expenditure of the Leslie fund. On the commission are Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the National Woman's Trade Union League, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the Woman Suffrage Party of New York City, Mrs. Arthur Livermore, and Mrs. Thomas Bucklin Wells.

Children's Apparel

Each day we add to this attractive collection of dainty things for children. Special attention is being given to this section and we are confident you will be pleased with the styles and qualities and also the prices asked.

Suits

Frills and furbelows have no place in the new spring suits. Conservative models promise to be most popular. Jackets are straight and slim; skirts are rather narrow.

There is already a considerable variety to choose from in the fabrics and shades most popular. Your early inspection is invited.

Coats

The coat styles for the spring will be alike pleasing both to the smart dresser as well as to those who prefer the more conservative styles. For simplicity is the keynote in all of the new coat models.

Smart effects are shown in many of our new coats especially where loose back and kimono sleeves give a free flowing effect, to the richness of the materials used.

Dresses

Every woman who appreciates beauty in her outdoor wear—and what woman does not—will find a particular personal pleasure in the array of dainty dresses included in this showing most of which are made up in interesting combinations of softer silks.

Skirts

Women who appreciate smart and attractive wear in a separate skirt will find great interest in the proportion of new offerings in which numerous pleats and other novelties are expressed.

A Superb Collection of Beautiful Blouses

For the woman of taste who seeks something distinctive as well as becoming, this collection of entire new style blouses for early spring wear has appeal of more than usual interest.

All the smartest novelties are represented in this showing including examples of all the leading models which are setting the standard of the modes to be worn this year.

Small Hats

In Vogue for Early Spring Wearing

BULGARS ARE TAKING NOTE

Saloniki, January 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The Bulgarian government and people are much concerned because of the large number of reported massacres of Serbians and others by Bulgarians during the war, now that they have been brought face to face with the facts.

Premier Theodoroff declared that many of the reports were "unfortunately" true but a greater number were untrue. He expressed the belief that America and England would weigh the evidence for each side, and then give an impartial verdict. He called attention to the report of the Carnegie Foundation in 1913 which, he said, found that atrocities had been committed by all the Balkan states, but that the heaviest part could not be laid at the door of Bulgaria.

HUN UNIFORM FOR CIVILIANS

Coblenz, February 16.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Thousands of unused German uniforms that were found in the storehouses here have been delivered to the local authorities by American Army officials for conversion into civilian clothing for the poorer residents of the city.

Both boys and men now appear on the streets in new clothes, some of which have been disguised by dyes. The women too have availed themselves of the opportunity to get warm war coats. They have scorned, however, the camouflage of the dye man and it is now a common sight to see one wearing a long war coat that obviously once, as a gray military overcoat, adorned a German officer. The only change has been the feminizing of the collar and sleeves with perhaps the addition here and there of a few buttons or trimmings.

Some men of the Rhineland have resorted to the turning of the war coats inside out. Scores of men who are well dressed wear the buttons on what was the inside of the army coat.

This is the last discount day for gas and electric light bills.

Give as far as possible make and model of car, number of chassis, engine, license, color of body, wheels and top, and any special marks. Give your correct post office address.

ALL DUES PAYABLE IN ADVANCE AT OUR BRANCH OFFICE. For the counties of Fayette, Ross, Highland, Pickaway, Greene, Madison, Clark and Clinton, mail application and check to

HENRY W. JONES, District Mgr. Washington C. H., Ohio, N. B.—Become a member today; don't wait until your machine is stolen. This service is very cheap to you. Ask anyone who has had one stolen. YOUR SHERIFF AND CHIEF OF POLICE will tell you they are constantly receiving complaints of stolen cars. While Sheriff, I had four years of this experience. Notice your daily papers. Thousands stolen in Ohio every year.

Officers in trying to do their duty have always been handicapped from the fact that if they halted a car because of the suspicious action of the driver, then looked at the engine number, there would be no place to call and find out the real owner of the car. THE THIEVES ALL KNOW THIS FACT and plan accordingly, first throwing away your license tag, then putting on some other license, giving what appears to be a good plausible story (this is always their strong suit) and are allowed to go on their way. DON'T BLAME YOUR OFFICERS. They always do all they can to help you recover your car. You can help them do their duty for you by becoming a member of the Automobile Registering Co. It affords you more protection and gives the officers a system to run down thieves.

ONE OF WORST LOCUST YEARS IS ANTICIPATED

May and June of this Year Expected to Bring Swarms of the Pest

Two Broods of Cicada will Visit Much of Ohio this Summer

(By Associated Press).
 Washington, March 8.—Great swarms of the 17-year locust will visit United States in late May and early June this year, which is expected by scientists to be one of the worst "locust years" on record. Experts of the Department of Agriculture, however, see nothing alarming in the prospect.

Once regarded superstitiously as a harbinger of disaster, the periodical cicada, popularly known as the 17-year locust because it comes at long intervals, is seen now to be no more than an ordinary non-poisonous insect pest, which can do little damage if proper precautions are taken. The chief injury inflicted by the insect consists almost wholly in chiseling grooves in the branches of trees for depositing eggs. Young fruit trees sometimes are killed but the damage generally seems greater than it actually is, according to the entomologists, and popular alarm is out of proportion to the real danger.

Suggested precautionary measures are:
 Defer putting out young fruit trees until next year; postpone budding operations; do no pruning this spring.

When the insects begin coming out, hand pick them from young trees or spray them with pyrethrum powder, kerosene emulsion, or a solution of carbolic acid or acetic acid. Later, when the insects are ready to begin laying, spray young fruit trees with whitewash.

The Department of Agriculture has kept close check for many years of all the broods of locusts and can forecast accurately when and where the pests will appear. Large regions will be affected this year where one brood appeared 17 years ago and in other regions which suffered 12 years ago, the states including Alabama, District of Columbia, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Belief that the 1919 brood will be exceptionally large is based on the fact that the 12-year brood coming out this year is brood 16, perhaps the largest of the 17-year brood, and that brood 18 of the 13-year family comes out at the same time. The year 1908 was the greatest locust year in history, when brood 19, the largest of the 13-year family, appeared in conjunction with brood 16 of the 17-year family.

KEMP'S BALSAM for Coughs and Sore Throat GUARANTEED

There will be three regions of greatest occurrence of brood 16, one covering New Jersey, Maryland and eastern Pennsylvania; another covering all of Indiana, the greater part of Ohio and southern Michigan; and a third covering western North Carolina, eastern Tennessee and northern Georgia. While brood 16 will affect 20 states, brood 18 will appear in only five states—Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, and only limited areas in those states.

C. L. Marriott, chairman of the Federal Horticultural Board, who has perfected the information on the cicada, calls the insect the most interesting in the world, because of the spectacular swarms in which it appears. Its queer recurrence at long intervals and the portentous significance frequently attached to it. Every locust year has been a year of fear and dread, even in civilized times. Some people have fancied that they could detect in the cry of the insect a resemblance to the Egyptian monarch, Pharaoh, who persecuted the Israelites. Superstition attached also to the shape of the tiny bars on the cicada's wings, which seemed to form the letter "W" interpreted as a forecast of war.

"Since this outbreak will come just at the conclusion of the greatest war," Mr. Marriott said, "and when even the imagination of the rural prophet could hardly conjure up the likelihood of another one, some new explanation will apparently have to be found."

BOY IS CURED AFTER YEARS OF LAMENESS

Much interest is being taken in a performance this week by Dr. C. C. Hazard, assisted by Dr. Lucy Pine, on Herman Forsyth, the fifteen year old son of Sam Forsyth. The boy has been lame since he was two years old and had almost given up hope since an operation in Cincinnati several years ago had been unsuccessful. He had operated a delivery wagon as best he could in his crippled condition, and his game spirit appealed to public sympathy. The teachers of Cherry Hill school and the residents of that section became interested and the case was brought to the attention of the Red Cross. It was through the Red Cross that the boy was placed in the Cherry Hill Hospital and the operation performed. He is now able to walk on crutches.

LEAGUE FAILURE WOULD CAUSE RUIN SAYS RUSSELL

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 10.—Failure of the league of nations plan probably would precipitate in Europe "the greatest catastrophe in the history of the world," Charles Edward Russell, writer and member of the late American mission to Russia, declared upon his arrival from Paris on the steamer Nieuw Amsterdam.

"The desire on the part of the masses in Europe to have something done that will avert wars in the future," said Mr. Russell, "amounts to a passion. If the plan for a league of nations should fail there is no telling what would happen."

"Two other dangers which Europe faces," he added, "are the Bolshevik menace and the possibility that plans to relieve the economic distress will fail. Realization of all three, he said, might 'overturn the foundations' of the world."

Mr. Russell characterized the attitude of the 37 senators who signed the Lodge resolution opposing the present league of nations covenant as "most unfortunate," declaring that it would "seriously affect President Wilson's prestige at the Peace conference."

He predicted that Bolshevism would be stamped out in Russia soon, providing the country was left to handle the problem itself and "provided that Europe does not allow up in the meantime."

WASTE PAPER BECOMES BOOKS

Washington, March 8.—(By Associated Press)—Waste paper, saved by public school children in Cleveland, is being turned into books for soldiers according to information given by the Public Librarian of that city to the American Forestry Association here today.

The school children, it was stated, take old magazines and newspapers to school once a week where they are baled and sold to the highest bidder. "Save a bale of paper," is the slogan. The zeal of the children has been stimulated by the starting of competition to see which school can collect the most paper. After the soldiers' libraries have been equipped, the plan is to purchase books for the libraries of Cleveland and continue the good work.

"This is a fine paper saving scheme," said the American Forestry Association. "It is an easy and convenient method of collecting it and has the added value of teaching the children the value of conservation. The use of old paper helps to save our forests and it saves coal for every pound of paper, represents from one to three pounds of coal used in its manufacture. It is hoped that many other cities will adopt the Cleveland plan. Save a bale of paper."
